

2023-2024 GRADUATE FIRST DESTINATION SURVEY

Introduction

The Graduate First Destination Survey investigates the employment and enrollment in graduate/professional school activities of recent graduate degree recipients with the goal of estimating post-graduation outcomes rates. The target populations are certificate, master's, and doctoral degree recipients who graduated between July 1, 2023, and June 30, 2024.

Initial data were gathered just before graduation via an online instrument. For those who did not respond to the initial survey, or indicated they were still seeking employment, a follow-up online survey invitation was sent to the graduate via email. A third follow-up to non-responders and those still seeking employment involved obtaining information from the graduate via social media. National Student Clearinghouse and Marquette University enrollment data were also utilized to place non-responders into the outcome category related to enrollment in additional graduate/professional school. Data collection ended on December 31, 2024; thus, outcomes reflect the first destination of the graduates up to that date.

Results

Response Rates

The overall response rate for those who graduated in the 2023-2024 academic year, including all follow-up contact, was 78%, an increase compared to previous years (71% for the 2021-2022 cohort and 68% for the 2022-2023 cohort). The tables below show response rates by college/school and degree level. The "Other" category includes the School of Dentistry (graduate programs only) and Graduate School.

2023-2024 Graduate First Destination SurveyEXECUTIVE SUMMARY*First Destination Post-Graduation Outcomes

Graduates were grouped into one of several post-graduation outcomes based on their survey response. The categories are mutually exclusive. Other Not Seeking represents those engaged in post-graduation service, in the military full or part time, those planning to continue education, or students who indicated they were not engaged in an activity and were not actively seeking employment or enrollment in a graduate/professional program. Seeking Employment indicates those who were not engaged in any activity above and were still seeking employment as of December following graduation.

In 2023-2024, the percentage of graduates that are full-time employed (82%) slightly decreased from the last cohort (83%) and lower compared to 86% in 2021-2022.

Table 2. First Destination Outcomes by Graduating Cohort

	2019-2020 (n=485)	2020-2021 (n=632)	2021 - 2022 (n=719)	2022 - 2023 (n=692)	2023 - 2024 (n=780)

From the outcomes above, we can calculate a “fully engaged” percentage, which is the percentage of respondents who are employed full-time, in the military, in a stipend-paid service position, or attending graduate/professional school full-time.

The percentage of respondents who are “fully engaged” is shown below by college as well as by degree level. The fully engaged rate for the 2023-2024 cohort was 88.7%.

Full-time Employment

Respondents who were full-time employed answered additional questions about their employment. Respondents in the military or in post-graduation stipend-paid service positions are excluded from this section.

Respondents were asked to indicate the relationship between their career goals and their full-time employment. The chart below represents a breakdown of respondents who answered “yes” to whether they consider their job to be related to their career goals and/or a path that will allow them to achieve their career goals. The Graduate School and School of Dentistry are omitted due to a low number of respondents.

The tables below show gross salaries of full-time, non-temporary employed graduates by college and degree type. Respondents in School of Dentistry and Graduate School are excluded due to low headcounts. Salary numbers exclude those active in the military, those in a post-graduation stipend-paid service position, those in a temporary position, and those employed as Medical Scribes.

2023-2024 Graduate First Destination SurveyEXECUTIVE SUMMARY

About 54% of full-time employed respondents reported salary information on the survey (compared with 59% in 2022-2023 and 34% in 2021-2022).

Graduate and Professional Education

Those pursuing graduate/professional school were asked to indicate the type of degree they are pursuing and the field of study of the degree. The survey also collected the names of the schools, although that information is not included within this report.

About 65% of those pursuing graduate/professional school are pursuing a Doctorate degree. The “Other” category includes degrees such as a Law (J.D.) Doctor of Dental Surgery (D.D.S), Medical degree (M.D., D.O.), Doctor of Physical Therapy (D.P.T.), or another professional doctorate or degree or certificate.

Students pursuing either Master's or Ph.D. degrees were asked to indicate their field of study. Master's degree data is excluded due to low headcounts. The “Other” category in the Doctorate degree category includes fields such as Doctorate of Pediatric Medicine.

Seeking Employment and Planning to Continue Education

Graduates who indicated they were either seeking employment or planning to continue education were asked to comment on their job search or graduate/professional program search process. Respondents who reported that they were seeking employment and who responded to this follow-up question (n = 52) had the option to choose from a list of seven options to describe where they were in the process. All respondents who completed the “seeking employment” follow-up questions are included in the charts below, even those who indicated that they were also in another post-graduation outcome category (e.g. employed part-time and seeking employment). Respondents could check all that applied to them; therefore, the percentages across each row will not add up to 100%.

Respondents who reported that they were planning to continue their education and who responded to this follow-up question (n = 18) had the option to choose from a list of seven options to describe where they were in the process. All respondents who completed the “planning to continue education” follow-up questions are included in the charts below, even those who indicated that they were also in another post-graduation outcome category. Respondents could check all that applied to them; therefore, the percentages across each row will not add up to 100%.

Discussion

Results from this annual survey are distributed to many campus constituency groups and are used to inform current and future students of first destination post-graduation outcomes.

Results from previous years and results at the undergraduate level can be found at <https://www.marquette.edu/institutional-research-analysis/institutional-surveys.php>.

Data collection procedures follow the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE) standards and protocols for the collection of graduating student initial career outcomes information for undergraduates. Marquette’s Career Services Center submits Graduate First Destination Survey outcomes data, aggregated at the major level, to NACE for inclusion in NACE’s yearly report on first destination outcomes, including national hiring and continuing education trends.
