Beautiful weather, live music at Summerfest, restaurants featured on Top Chef and Brewers game tailgating are all awaiting you on your Milwaukee exploration.

make connections

Sign up now for the Marquette Parent and Family Experience. This customizable resource is designed to provide the information you need, when you need it. Stay engaged and focused on what matters most — your student's success. Register with this QR code.

TAKE TIME TO TALK

This summer, ask your student about what they hope to accomplish in the next year and how they hope to be involved on campus and in the Milwaukee community. It can be a great entry point into a conversation about your expectations for this transformational time.

REQUESTING ACCESS

Students receive notices about tuition in their Marquette email account. If you want to receive these notices, talk to your student about registering your email for guest access through the student's CheckMarq account. Guest access also provides access to bursar accounts, e-bills, 1098-T's, and grades if your student gives you permission.

on the move

Are you prepping for your student's Move-in Day? Find room dimensions, amenities and more through this QR code. If you want to learn more about what we allow in our residence hall rooms, click on "Resident Information" and then "Policies" on this website.

a time of transition for all

During their first year, you should expect your student to move between enjoying their new world and needing to know their families will always support them. Some students thrive immediately; others need more time to get comfortable. Remember to be patient with your student and yourself. No matter the pace, the next four years are an important transition to independent adulthood.

SAVE THE DATE

Family Weekend is around the corner. Bring the whole family to visit your student on campus Sept. 25–27. It's a great opportunity to hug your amazing student and discover how amazing Milwaukee is. Use the QR code to learn more about Family Weekend events offered on and off campus.

get involved

O-Fest is here! At Organization Fest students will discover countless ways they can find their people over something they love. Encourage your student to get involved in some of our 250-plus student organizations, community service opportunities, and intramural and club sports. Involved students typically perform better academically, meet a wider range of friends, and gain skills that help them succeed at Marquette and beyond.

STAY IN TOUCH

First-year students living on campus are encouraged to stay at Marquette on weekends as much as possible during the first semester. It is a crucial time to make new friends, adjust to new academic expectations and get involved outside the classroom. However, if they ask to come home, you and your student should make the decision that feels right for your family.

HEALTH CHECK

As cold and flu season ramps up, encourage your student to be proactive about their health. Our Medical Clinic offers vaccines (visit clinic website for dates) and a range of other health care services. Clinic hours, appointment requests, services and resources for off-campus urgent or emergency care can also be found on our site.

TRAIN TRIP TIP

Marquette's EagleExpress provides students with drop-offs and pickups from Milwaukee's Intermodal Station, the city's main train and bus depot.

thinking ahead on financial aid

The 2027-28 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) typically opens in fall. Be sure to fill it out to determine your eligibility for federal, state and school aid.

Academic advisers can help take the stress out of this process and be an advocate on their learning journey.

here to help

Study skills and time management are often challenged as students adjust to college life. Encourage your student to meet with professors during office hours and find help at the Academic Resource Center in the Lemonis Center for Student Success.

ENCOURAGE BALANCE

This is a great time to encourage your student to maintain a balanced life — fitting in exercise and a healthy diet with academics and a social life.

STAY SHARP

Registration for J-Session for first-year students is open. This condensed academic session offers students an opportunity to earn credits over winter break.

deep breaths

First finals are here! So your student is extremely busy preparing. During this stressful time, encourage your student to seek balance in work and play and take care of themselves. This is an ideal time to send words of encouragement, a care package or a gift certificate to enjoy a meal out.

TAKE TIME TO REFLECT

Winter break is an ideal time for parents and students to reflect on the semester, especially after students have caught up on sleep and reconnected with family and friends. Parents should take time to ask students about their favorite class, favorite Milwaukee restaurant, most challenging professor and new friends.

BUILD COMMUNITY

As students return for the spring semester, there are many ways for them to engage with campus life. Encourage your student to attend sporting events, sign up for a faith-based retreat, check out undergraduate research opportunities and apply for campus leadership positions.

second-year housing

At the start of the semester, students will receive information about signing up for sophomore housing. Before they choose their preferences, they should consider what the best choices are for them as far as location, roommates and room type. Find more information in March.

NATIONAL MARQUETTE DAY

This global celebration unites the Marquette nation in pride, spirit and sport. Put on your blue and gold and get ready for this year's National Marquette Day celebration. Watch your email for date and event details and prepare to sing Ring Out Ahoy!

think summer

Whether your student is looking to catch up, get a head start on the fall semester or graduate sooner, Marquette's Summer Studies program offers many online courses, including many popular introductory and Marquette Core Curriculum classes. Students can take a class and still have plenty of time for a job or summer fun.

28 TIP OF THE MONTH

Marquette's Arrupe Center for Community Service and Social Responsibility cultivates a deep commitment to service in our students. Throughout the year, the center offers multiple opportunities to serve others and our students step up — it's how we earned the No. 1 ranking for most engaged college in community service, two years in a row.

next fall's hall

Marquette requires first- and second-year students to live in on-campus residence halls unless they live at home. In early March, students must submit a housing deposit that will activate their assignment time. Current first-year students will receive priority when choosing a residence hall.

NEXT FALL'S CLASSES

Students will meet with their adviser and begin planning for course registration for the fall semester. Students can view their registration times in their CheckMarq account. There's still time for undecided students to consider a major, but this advising appointment is an ideal time to talk about what courses a student has been excited by and if that has them leaning toward a major decision.

the home stretch

Believe it or not, your student's first year of college is almost over! Check in with your student to make sure they've found balance among work, academics and social life. Final exams take place May 10–15. Encourage your student to visit on-campus academic resources in the Lemonis Center for Student Success, where they can find academic support, a study space or a much-needed stress break that just might involve dogs.

SUMMER JOBS APLENTY

It is never too early for students to begin preparing for their postgraduation career. Summer jobs and internships are valuable opportunities to learn skills for future jobs and start creating a network of professional contacts. They can visit our Career Center and search student employment websites such as Handshake and JobX for available jobs and internships.

move-out

Right after final exams, students will need to pack and prepare their residence hall room to move out. Our Office of Residence Life can provide additional information about summer housing options for students choosing to stay or information about summer storage.

COMING HOME

Parents should expect to reevaluate boundaries and expectations at home. After living independently on campus, students can have different expectations about how they will contribute and communicate at home.
